Patni Computer Systems to Introduce New Products and Services for Telecommunications and Financial Exchanges at Oracle OpenWorld

Patni to Demo Solutions Built on Oracle Technology at Sept. 21-25 Conference

SAN FRANCISCO – September 18, 2008 -- Patni Computer Systems Inc. (NYSE: PTI), a leading global IT services provider, today announced plans to exhibit and announce two new products and services at the Oracle OpenWorld conference Sept. 21-25 at the Moscone Center, 747 Howard St., in San Francisco.

Patni will introduce new offerings focused at the telecommunications industry and at stock, commodity and mercantile exchange operators. Both offerings will be based on Oracle technology.

Telecommunications: The Patni ATOMS™ pre-packaged business platform gives telecommunications providers the ability to accelerate the provisioning of new phone, cable, internet and wireless services quickly, efficiently and economically.

Financial Exchanges: The Patni Financial Exchange Management Framework – a business process framework streamlines the operations of stock, commodity and mercantile exchanges. It helps them equip their systems, integrate their processes and meet regulatory requirements concerning general ledger tallies, procurement and reporting.

Oracle OpenWorld is the world's largest gathering of Oracle customers, partners, developers, and technology enthusiasts.

Patni executives will be available to discuss the telecommunications and financial exchange solutions as well as other Patni initiatives, including a hosted solution under development that will manage procurement processes in the hospitality business and other industries. Patni will be demonstrating the new offerings from Booth #2036 at Oracle OpenWorld at the Moscone Center in San Francisco.
